

UpWrite Words

Offering online and print writing services to the Personal Growth Community

Love Letter — “Your Good is Enough”

My Dear, I just wanted to say ~

Your good is enough. All you need to be is:

- 1) Able to visualize and feel success.*
- 2) In belief in yourself and the delivery of your dream in adequate quantity.*
- 3) Sufficiently passionate about what you want to do.*

That's all.

You needn't be afraid to take possession of the house you (and God) built. It is yours. Go on in and make yourself at home. Embrace your life and your work.

Is there anything else you'd rather be doing? Is there anything more important you could do? Can you really turn your back on the opportunities that lie ahead on this path?

If you try, there's a chance you'll get what you wish for. Zero chance if you give up.

Though it may not return exactly what you envision, putting out loving energy and bountiful passion will ALWAYS get you something wonderful, if you but see it. It's always worthwhile to give Good Energy.

Remember what A Course in Miracles says,

“The Truth in you remains as radiant as a star, as pure as light, as innocent as Love itself.”

Let It Shine!

All My Love,

A.