

UpWrite Words

Offering online and print writing services to the Personal Growth Community

Love Letter — “Letting Love Lead”

My Dear, I just wanted to say ~

When you doubt the outcome, you live in fear and wear heavy garments of guilt.

If instead, you relax and remember that God is in charge, you will know that all is well. (And will continue to be.)

It is all right to let go of that fear and take off the mantle of guilt. Make a renewed decision to never doubt God. When you feel doubtful, choose love instead.

And then take the action that love sponsors. What would Love do now?

*All My Lovin,
A.*